PRICE THREE CENTS

HAVOC!

Wrecked by a most Violent Storm.

It Runs Through Illinois, Missouri and Kansas and Kills Four People.

Much Property is Destroyed and About Everything in its Way is Wrecked.

TORNADO.

Three Persons Killed and Others Injured.

WOODSTOCK, Ill., May 7.—A tornado yesterday afternoon killed three persons outright and injured others, and destroyed much property in the vicinity of Kingwood and Merma, ten miles distant.

AT SPRINGFIELD, MO.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 7.—One of the heaviest rain storms ever known here took place yesterday afternoon, doing a vast amount of damage to property. The total damage in this city is estimated at $75,000 and in the surrounding country at $40,000.

FORT SCOTT.

FORT SCOTT, Kas., May 7.—Yesterday noon a severe storm set in. Lamb's dam broke and the house occupied by Sarah Brown, a widow, was struck by the torrent and swept about a hundred yards down the stream, where it lodged among the trees. Mrs. Brown and four children were in it. Her six months old babe was drowned. The others were rescued.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The house went into a committee of the whole on the private calendar.

The house passed the river and harbor bill as reported by the committee, without change.

The senate committee on foreign relations has unanimously ordered a favorable report on Senator Frye's bill to promote the political progress and commercial prosperity of American nations. It provides for a congress of American nations.

Shot for a Burglar.

ATHENS, Ohio, May 7.—A. W. S. Menear, a druggist and ex-county auditor, was shot and killed Wednesday night by C. Carr, a young man employed by Minner, Minner had returned home late unexpectedly and while trying to get into the house was mistaken by Carr for a burglar and fired upon with a shot gun.

No Quorum Yet.

COLUMBUS, O., May 7.—Republican members of the Ohio senate remained in session until noon and adjourned till tomorrow morning for want of a quorum. There being no democratic members present, warrants for the arrest of absentees were placed in hands of sergeants-at-arms.

A Double Suicide.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 7.—The community this morning was startled by a rumor of a double suicide, the victims being Charles P. Warner and a domestic in his family, with whom Mrs. Warner charged her husband with being too intimate.

His Last Race.

CHICAGO, May 7.—Yesterday afternoon, Daniel Dunbar, of Pullman, one of the team selected to row at the spring races of the club, went out in a shell for training practice on Calumet Lake and during a fierce squall he was lost.

Business Failures.

NEW YORK, May 7.—The business failures for the last seven days are: United States, 167; Canada, 25.

A Hot Race.

There were about two hundred people at the Fair grounds yesterday to witness the race between J. W. Pearce's "Judge Hoody" and Capt. F. F. Boltz's "George B." "Judge Hoody" won the first two heats. The third was a dead heat and in the sixth "George B." won the race on his staying quality. It was the prettiest local race ever seen on the track. The purse was for $100 and another race will be trotted two weeks from yesterday for $200 a side. The time ranged about 2:39 and 2:40. The judges were Howell Rockhill, Dr. Langtry and A. C. Perrin, while Mr. W. H. Fleming acted as timekeeper. Fully $500 changed hands on the race and Dan Harmon enlivened things with his wheel of fortune.

A well pleased audience witnessed "A Box of Cash" at the Academy last night. The play is full of funny situations, as may be supposed, when it is known that it is, in reality, "The Corner Grocery." The company is a very clever one, and in several instances excels Mr. Sully's company. Notably, the "Timothy O'Hara" of Ed. M. Faver, which is a much neater and more refined performance than Sully's "Daddy Nolan." Miss Edith Sinclair is a pleasing sonnette and a fair singer. The balance of the company are all good, particularly the policeman of Mrs. Donsbach, which is very funny. "A Box of Cash" will be repeated to-night and at the matinee and evening performance to-morrow.

ARTHUR'S ILLNESS.

Disquieting Rumors About the Ex-President's Health.

One day the papers announce that ex-President Arthur is preparing to go fishing soon, either at his favorite West island, near Newport, or to Canada, it is not yet decided which. The next day they say he is slowly dying of Bright's disease and heart trouble, and that, in fact, he really has come nearly to the end. Then next day again his physicians or somebody else deny the whole story of Bright's disease, and say the ex-president is not dying, though they do not deny that he is ill. It is a race between the newspapers and the doctors, which on the one hand can tell the most and on the other can conceal the most.

Mr. Arthur seems to be really in an alarming condition. Not long since his old pastor, who preaches in the church President Arthur used to attend in Washington, was sent for to go from that city to New York and visit the invalid. Now, a man does not usually send for a preacher unless he has good reason to suppose that it is all up with him. Moreover, any one who within a year has met the ex-president in the street in New York city must have been struck with the look of age and declining health that seemed to have suddenly come over him. No wonder. It is enough to kill a man to be president of the United States. The storm of abuse, the mis-construction and out and out lying, in short, to which he is subject, must break a man of iron. It seems as though an American president is not entitled to common decency of treatment. He is one whom no man need envy.

EX-PRESIDENT ARTHUR.

Mr. Arthur is a young man to be dying. There is something painful and saddening in his history. He started in life a dreamer and an enthusiast. His father was a Baptist doctor of divinity and a fine classical scholar. Chester A. was born in Fairfield, Vt., in 1829.

He was a barefoot boy who did farm chores for his living, in his childhood, but he never made any fuss about it. He was a graduate of Union college, N. Y., and paid for his education himself by teaching in other ways. In college he was the most popular of students. Tall, commanding and handsome, his manners were at once dignified and winning. He was courteous itself to all. He had dark, brilliant eyes and dark, curling hair. He was a first-class scholar, too.

Great things were predicted for him. He studied law, again paying for his education himself. When only 21 he was principal of a boys' academy at North Pownal, Vt. He was strictly economical, obliged to be so. When he had saved $500 he began the practice of law, first in the west then in New York city.

Mr. Arthur's first days were his best days. He came from college full of enthusiasm and determined to do right at all cost.

He was intensely anti-slavery in his convictions. He had hardly settled in New York and was only 22 years old when a law case was put into his hands that tried both his principles and his intellect. It was the celebrated Lemmon slave case, to decide whether, under the laws of New York, slaves brought into the state did not become free. Arthur took up the side of the slaves and won their cause triumphantly. The trials were carried up from court to court, and Charles O'Connor was the opposing counsel to him, but the brave young man won. From that day on it was settled that slaves brought into New York by their owners became free. Then Arthur took up the grievance of a negro woman who had been put off a street car on account of color. He sued the company and collected damages, and again from that day on, colored people had the right to ride unquestioned in the public conveyances of New York.

Right Rev. Bishop Dwenger yesterday awarded the contracts for the work on the new $30,000 Catholic orphan asylum to be built in this city. Michael Orr has the work of excavation, Ernest Breimeyer has the masonry and Geake Brothers the cut stone. Kendrick & Shrimpton will superintend the structure, which can be seen directly north through Calhoun street. The corner stone will be blessed and laid by Right Rev. Bishop Dwenger on Sunday afternoon June 27. The ceremony will no doubt be an occasion of joy to the Catholics of this city, and all societies and Benevolent organizations of the church will probably turn out to attend the solemn rite. The new institution will not only be a pride to our city, but will be a charity that commends itself to everybody.

second place on the Garfield ticket. Conkling hated Garfield so intensely that he thought him not good enough to stand on the same ticket with Arthur.

The split in the Republican party of New York wrecked Arthur's fortunes politically. The bitter and final quarrel that resulted in consequence between him and his warmest friends, distressed him and rendered his life not pleasant socially. He said to have a fixed belief that the American people have misunderstood him and not given him his dues, and that those on whom he lavished favor and friendship have turned against him and tried to do him injury. His life has not been a very jolly one since he left the White House.

Mr. Arthur's wife died in 1879. He was devotedly attached to her, and never remarried. He lives alone with his children, a son and daughter, in his house on Lexington avenue. His son Allan, looks like a dude, and is not greatly remarkable, except for having broken a marriage engagement with a charming girl, while his father was president.

So, from having started in life with the highest prospects and aspirations, with all that nature could do for him in the way of physique, and with a fine brain, from beginning with a brave record on the side of liberty and justice, the ex-president is finishing his career in declining health and obscurity, at his home. Until his illness called attention to him again, his name had scarcely been mentioned since he left Washington.

His little daughter Nellie was the sweet, bright flower that cheered his checkered life in the White House. She is now nearing womanhood, and resembles her father in face and features.

In his youth Mr. Arthur was called "an ideally faithful friend," and it was this which caused his overthrow. When vice-president of the United States he went to Albany and worked like a very lobbyist for the re-election of Conkling and Platt to the United States senate. He recognizes now that this was the mistake of his life-time. He has, perhaps, had plenty of time to brood over it since. He is said to be the only one of the Republican presidents who never made a reference to the south in any of his messages.

THE LIQUOR LEAGUE.

An Attendance of About Fifty Delegates From Various Cities.

Representatives of the liquor interests of the state were in session at Mozart hall, Indianapolis, yesterday, considering matters of interest in relation to their business, with especial reference to the coming campaign. Some days ago circulars were sent out by P. H. McNelis, in inviting attendance, and in response representatives from Terre Haute, Evansville, Lafayette, Fort Wayne, Logansport, Brazil, Jeffersonville, New Albany, South Bend and other cities arrived, about fifty being present. It was not the intention to hold a mass convention, but merely a conference to form a permanent state organization, which may be considered a revival of the old liquor league of 1882. The meeting is strictly private. "We do not propose to form a political organization," said Mr. McNelis, of Indianapolis, "in fact we want as little to do with politics as possible, and if neither party makes a direct issue of high license this year our organization will cut no figure in the campaign. We are to organize for the purposes of mutual protection, and we want to make the organization permanent, as it is in Massachusetts, New York and other states. If either of the political parties here advocate high license, our organization will be against them."

Hon. J. K. Edgerton on Judge Lowry.

(Liquorist Banner.)

Hon. Joseph K. Edgerton, of Fort Wayne, is recognized throughout this district as one of the brainiest and purest democrats of Indiana. He represented the old Tenth district in congress and is held in the highest esteem by his fellow democrats. In a recent letter to J. B. Stoll, Mr. Edgerton thus spoke of our representative in congress: "There is no good reason why Judge Lowry should not be re-nominated in this district. He is an able man and a faithful representative. I have no sympathy with the efforts to defeat his re-nomination, and if I thought I had any influence with the democrats of this district I would cheerfully and cordially give it to Judge Lowry."

Right Rev. Bishop Dwenger yesterday awarded the contracts for the work on the new $30,000 Catholic orphan asylum to be built in this city. Michael Orr has the work of excavation, Ernest Breimeyer has the masonry and Geake Brothers the cut stone. Kendrick & Shrimpton will superintend the structure, which can be seen directly north through Calhoun street. The corner stone will be blessed and laid by Right Rev. Bishop Dwenger on Sunday afternoon June 27. The ceremony will no doubt be an occasion of joy to the Catholics of this city, and all societies and Benevolent organizations of the church will probably turn out to attend the solemn rite. The new institution will not only be a pride to our city, but will be a charity that commends itself to everybody.

The Strike in Fort Wayne.

The Pittsburg, Nickel Plate, Lake Shore and Wabash railroad people say they are moving freight at Chicago and consequently are in shape to solicit traffic here. Another detachment of men left here last night to work in the Pittsburg depot at Chicago. The lumber blockade at Chicago has directed a big shipment of lumber south over the Grand Rapids road. The rumors of strikes here proved idle talk as THE SENTINEL predicted.

DEFEAT!

Stares the Chicago Strikers Squarely.

Many Workmen are Resuming Their Places at the Old Hours and Pay.

Thirty-Two Thousand Dollars for the Policemen—The Fort Wayne Roads at Chicago.

CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, May 7.—Thirty-two thousand dollars has been subscribed for the relief of policemen's families. The police have found more dynamite and hope to find manufacturers. State's Attorney Grinnell has stated he has obtained ample legal evidence implicating Spies, Fielden and Schwab as leaders in getting up a riot Tuesday night.

ANOTHER STRIKE.

The switch tenders on the Western road, which leases tracks to the Fort Wayne, Wabash, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, Chicago and Atlantic and the Grand Trunk, struck yesterday, and seriously retarded the business of the roads named.

The first move made by the tenders was on the Fort Wayne neutral track, near Thirty-ninth street, where they stopped an engine belonging to the Fort Wayne road and a Wabash passenger train. The passengers on the latter were compelled to take the street cars into the city. Nearly all day the union track was blocked from Thirty-ninth street to the "Y," but the principal difficulty was at Fortieth street and Stewart avenue, where the Western Indiana line crosses that of the Stook Yards Transit company. At this point the gates were swung across the tracks—the gate-tenders being on a strike also—so that trains could not pass.

PITTSBURG AND FORT WAYNE.

At the Pittsburg and Fort Wayne depot not a freight handler was at work yesterday. All the afternoon about a dozen clerks from the general office labored hard with the trucks, taking care of the perishable freight. The Fort Wayne road this morning issued an ultimatum similar to that of the Burlington, and all employees who fail to put in an appearance will be finally discharged. Both "in" and "out" freight houses are crowded with goods, and the side tracks are full of loaded cars. It is safe to say that at least 600 cars on the Fort Wayne road are lying on the side tracks here and at suburban stations waiting until a force of men can be procured to unload them. A big delegation of men from Fort Wayne and elsewhere are at work to-day moving a few cars.

THE WABASH ROAD.

The special police who have guarded the Wabash for several days stood around the freight houses yesterday afternoon and shrugged their shoulders when the cold wind blew up. They had no exercise in the way of mauling strikers, and felt the sudden change in the atmosphere. A good deal of freight was being handled, but when the Western Indiana strike occurred business was badly interrupted.

Wells H. Blodgett, general solicitor of the Wabash railroad, presented another petition to Judge Blodgett yesterday for the appointment of deputy marshals to protect the Wabash road's property. The petition is identical like that presented Monday, but, in accordance with Judge Gresham's idea, it is signed by the receivers of the road instead of their solicitors. The affidavit of K. H. Wade, superintendent of transportation, accompanies it, in which it is said that many employees have expressed their wish to return to the company's employ if they were permitted to do so, and that the strikers will resume their interference and it will be impossible to preserve the company's property if protection is not afforded by the court. Special officer Ballard, of the Wabash railroad, sent down fifty special officers and soon trained them to throw switches, thus starting trains.

FORT WAYNE MACHINISTS.

At Fifty-fifth street the machine shops of the Fort Wayne road are idle on account of a strike of the men. The machinists want nine hours' pay for eight hours' work, and the employees who get $1.25 per day want $1.50. The trackmen are also out.

A BLOCKADE RAISED.

The blockade at the Fortieth street crossing of the Western Indiana road was raised at 10:30.

RETURNING TO WORK.

The western railways are resuming operations on nearly the same basis prior to the strike. On all roads freight trains are being sent out without molestation, and in the freight houses an increased force of men are at work.

Work was resumed at Armour's glue factory this morning. Two hundred employees returned to work on the old basis of ten hours for ten hours pay.

Nearly a full complement of 1,400 men are at work at McCormick's reaper works.

Wm. Stahlknecht, president of the cabinetmakers union, was arrested shortly after midnight, accused of intimidating workmen, and is alleged to have participated in the riot Tuesday night.

The People's gas company has instituted the eight hour system. The force changes every eight instead of every twelve hours, and pay $2.50 per day instead of $2.75.

SOCIALIST FIELDEN.

Fielden, the socialist now under arrest, was treated by Dr. Dexter this morning. The doctor states that from the course of the bullet Fielden evidently shot himself while carrying his revolver.

THE SOCIALIST LEADERS.

August and Christian Spies are together in cell No. 106, and Fielden and Schwab occupy cell No. 107. In the registry book of jail they recorded themselves as follows:

Hugust Spies, 30 years; occupation, journalist; birthplace, Germany.

Christian Spies, 26 years; occupation, hard wood finisher; birthplace, Germany.

Samuel Fielden, 39 years; occupation, teamster; birthplace, England.

Michael Schwab, 33 years occupation, journalist; birthplace, Germany.

A DYNAMITER ARRESTED.

Wm. Seliger, a suspected dynamiter, was arrested this morning. The fear exhibited by the man was painful.

CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, April 7.—The settlements with the strikers more than overbalance the new strikes. The hostlers of the street railway stables have struck for $12 a week.

The carpenters have issued a circular calling on all to work eight hours for eight hours pay so as to give employment to idle men.

It is thought that most of the carriage factories will be running by Monday. The mayor still keeps up precautionary measures.

GRAND RAPIDS.

GRAND RAPIDS, May 7.—The cabinet maker's difficulty at the chair factory was settled by arbitration. The men returned to work to-day and will receive as high wages as are paid in any factory. The brick makers and street contractors have advanced the wages of common laborers to $1.25, and the men are all at work. The teamsters refuse to work unless the brick makers will agree to hire non-union teamsters, and no brick have been handled this week. Work on several large jobs is suspended for want of brick.

EVANSVILLE.

EVANSVILLE, May 7.—Between sixty and seventy-five men struck at Reisman & Schulte's saw mill yesterday, and, forming in double column, marched to all the saw mills in the city, with two exceptions, and were joined by the employees of each, causing a general strike. The strike is for ten hours work with eleven hours pay. There are eleven saw mills here, of which nine are affected by the strike.

WAIT AWHILE.

Judge Treat Declines to Confirm the Wabash Sale.

H. K. Kent, solicitor of the Wabash, asked the confirmation of the master's report of the sale of the road a day or two ago, whereupon Judge Treat asked some very pertinent questions, which were not answered to the satisfaction of the court, and the confirmation is indefinitely postponed. The judge wanted the purchasers to pay into court the $625,000 they had bid, to pay all the receivers certificates and current debts of the receivership, about $4,000,000 in all, and gave the solicitor to understand that the court would do nothing with closed eyes, all of which goes to show honesty and justice on the bench as yet. The Cleveland Plaindealer says: "Since such a settlement of the matter was scarcely contemplated by the purchasers at the time of the sale, and since it was not anticipated that much more than the 10 per cent. of the spot cash was necessary to complete the bargain, it looks as though the deposit of $62,500 has gotten into a mighty tight place, and that considerable squeezing will be necessary before anything can be realized on it."

WAR!

Greece Involved in a Bloody Strife

Troops Rushed to the Front and War with Turkey is but a Question of Hours.

The Foreign Ambassadors Quit Athens and That Port is Ordered Closed.

CAN'T STOP IT.

Greece Bound to Plunge Into War.

ATHENS, May 7.—The government has sent a gun boat to Constantinople to take away from the Turkish ministry M. Conduitt, the Greek minister. Greek troops are being hurried to the front with all possible speed.

Great excitement prevails at Athens. The soldiers of the garrison have been summoned to the barracks and they will proceed to the front. Several members of the chamber of deputies who are officers in the army have been ordered to the front. The general commanding the Greek troops on the frontier telegraphs that the Turks are massing, and that he has ordered a similar movement of his troops.

IT IS WAR.

ATHENS, May 7.—[Latest]—All foreign ministers have embarked on the vessels of their respective nations to depart from Greece. The powers have given orders to fleets to blockade the Greek ports.

Soldiers at the garrison here received with cheers the orders to march to the frontier. The Peloponnesian army has been ordered to Thessaly. The movements of the Turkish army threaten to make Thessaly the scene of the first warlike appearance. Indications now point to the Turkish advance by way of Larissa.

The Greek reserves at Valo and Valentinio have been pushed to the front. This evening two battalions of the Athens garrison started for the frontier.

The populace are enthusiastic over the prospect of war with Turkey. Greek fleet has left Salamos and it is believed has gone to Poros.

It is not believed that Russia will take any share with the other powers in the coercion against Greece.

An Invitation to Leave Town.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., May 7.—Lewis York, mixture of insanity, socialism, communism, nihilism and infidelity, has made himself so odious that a committee of citizens last night gave him five hours to leave the town or be hanged. He left on the first train.

Fire Record.

ROSSVILLE, Ill., May 7.—Four business houses and one dwelling burned last night. Loss, $30,000. Insurance, $30,000.

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 7.—At 12:30 this morning the tanks of Thayer No. 1 were set on fire by incendiary and are now burning. The fire spread to the derrick of Gordon No. 1, a few rods distant, which was burned to the ground. The workmen saw a man running from the tanks.

THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, May 7.—Wheat, opened 2c stronger and later weakened. No. 2 red, May, 90@92. Corn, shade higher, less active, 38@48. Oats, quiet steady at 37@45.

CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO, May 7.—Wheat closed shade firmer, 76. Corn, easy, 34. Oats, weak, 29.

THE WEATHER.

How the Future is Peeped Into by Uncle Sam.

Without any previous notice, the signal service bureau has changed its compilation and publication of weather predictions on a new plan, which, it is believed, will meet with general favor. Instead of announcing what the weather is likely to be in the various geographical divisions of the country, as the New England states, the south Atlantic states, the lower lake region, etc., the predictions will hereafter be made for each state, grouping together, from day to day, such states as are likely to have the same weather. Whenever necessary, predictions will be made in different portions of the same state. The first bulletin sent out, for example, showed a probable difference in the weather of northern Indiana and southern Indiana. The signal service officers say that the average man will more readily understand and appreciate a prediction applied to his state than one concerning a group of states, and the new plan will, they think, prove popular. These weather predictions appear in THE SENTINEL daily and are telegraphed direct from Washington.

HOUSE ON LEXINGTON AVENUE.

As a member of the staff of Governor Morgan, of New York, during the war, it fell to him to equip regiments of soldiers and forward them to the front. He did this admirably, and in this work he got the title of general. The title is a civil, not a military one. He was Governor Morgan's adjutant. Afterwards he was collector of the port of New York and vice-president. It is said to have been directly opposed to his friend, Roscoe Conkling's, wish that he accepted the

STRONG STATEMENTS.

Rev. S. H. Troyer, of New Albany, Ind., states as follows how he saved himself from an attack which threatened serious results:

"On the 7th of June, 1884, I was taken with rheumatic fever, and for five weeks was not free from it. It then settled in my left foot, where it remained for about four weeks. Then it moved to my hips, shoulders, neck and collar bone, where it stayed until driven out by Athlophoros. Previous to the use of that remedy I had tried the skill of five physicians, from whom I obtained no relief. Then I resorted to the use of different remedies external and internal, but I continued to grow worse all the time until the 1st of October, when my druggist recommended Athlophoros. I had but little faith when I took the first bottle. At this time I was so helpless that my wife had to dress me, wash my face and assist me out of bed. I could not sleep more than from thirty to forty-five minutes at a time, so intense was my pain.

"My first dose of Athlophoros was taken at two o'clock in the afternoon, and I took two more soon after. The first dose gave me much relief, and the second eased me so greatly that I was enabled to talk freely and with comfort to my family and friends. The third dose enabled me to sleep four and a half hours without waking. I continued the use of Athlophoros until fourteen bottles in all had been taken. By this time my health was so much improved that I left off the medicine. That was in December, 1884, and I am now quite well."

Rev. Wm. Cool, of Denver, Ind., says: "I used only one bottle of Athlophoros, and I think it a good medicine. I consider that I derived much benefit from it."

"Athlophoros," says Mr. D. P. Sheets, of Mooresville, Ind., "gave me great satisfaction in a case of neuralgia, and I can heartily recommend it to others as doing all that is claimed for it."

Mr. J. A. Wilson, the photographer of New Albany, Ind., whose offices are at Nos. 6 and 8 Main street, tells of one of these cases. His story follows:

"I had rheumatism but it disappeared after using only one bottle of Athlophoros. It was in my arms and I had sharp shooting pains. I was suffering and complaining a good deal when a friend, coming into my gallery one morning, asked me what the trouble was. I said it was rheumatism. He told me of Athlophoros as a cure for neuralgia and rheumatism, and it struck me very forcibly, as it did not claim to cure every complaint that flesh is heir to. I bought a bottle on the strength of what he said. That was all I needed. I used the one bottle over six months ago, and have not had one ache or pain from rheumatism since."

Mr. Hiram F. Sides, of Fort Branch, Ind., says of his wife's cure:

"Her suffering from neuralgia was intense, and we concluded to try Athlophoros. Almost from the first dose I could see that she was improving, and two bottles effected a permanent cure, so that she feels no effects of her once dreaded disease. I tried it for rheumatism and soon found relief, one bottle curing me. I shall take great pleasure in recommending Athlophoros to my neighbors."

If you cannot get Athlophoros of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

Ladies

Do you want a pure, blooming complexion? If so, a few applications of Hagan's MAGNOLIA BALM will gratify you to your heart's content. It does away with Sallowness, Redness, Pimples, Blisters, and all diseases and imperfections of the skin. It overcomes the flushed appearance of heat, fatigue and excitement. There Are a Few Druggists who care more to make a large profit on a worthless article than to wait for the prosperity that ultimately results from honest dealing. These are the men who when asked for a Benson's Caprine Plaster, will recommend some cheap and trashy substitute or imitation, saying it is "just as good." Sometimes they will do up and sell the miserable imitation without remark, allowing the customer to suppose he has Benson's. If the valuable plaster is returned, cheap John will say he made a mistake. If not, he has done a good and honest business. The public are cautioned against John and all his ilk. Buy of respectable druggists only. The genuine Benson's plaster has the "Three Seals" trade mark and the word "Caprine" cut in the center. 17-47

Messrs. Lipps and Theodore Thieme are at home from Ashland, Ohio, where they attended the wedding of John Thieme to Miss Helen Crall.

The democratic mayor of Huntington was elected on a Jenny electric light platform. The republicans wanted candles.

R. A. Evans, special agent for the Equitable Life Insurance society of New York, has removed his office to 26 Court street.

"Mr. Millard Strickler and wife, of Fort Wayne, spent Sunday in Bourbon, with Mrs. S.'s parents," says the Bourbon Mirror.

Mr. R. T. McDonald has contracted to place a 100 light Jenny plant at Galesburg, Ill., and gets a barrel of money for the electric spark.

Joseph Proctor closed his engagement at the Temple last night. He did not begin to make expenses, but was content and pleasant just the same.

It takes 5,000 tons of coal a month to supply the engines on the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad, and the consumption of the year amounts to 65,000 tons.

Mr. A. C. Krueger, of Siemon & Bros, leaves next Sunday for New York, there to take passage for Germany May 13th on the steamer "Gellert" of the Hamburg line.

Mrs. Kerr Murray has engaged passage on the State Line steamship, "State of Nebraska," which sails for Glasgow on the 27th inst. Mrs. Murray may conclude to remain permanently in Scotland.

The newspapers of the state are agitating the legislature ought to pass a law abolishing the fees of peace justices and pay them a salary. This would put an end to thousands of petty cases that go through the court simply for the costs.

"By persistent effort and excellence of work, C. S. Douglas, agent for the Troy steam laundry, of Fort Wayne, has established a large and extensive trade in this county. He not only has work from Valparaiso, but from many of the adjoining towns," says the Valparaiso Vidette.

On May 1st the Pennsylvania railroad company inaugurated a new system for the prompt delivery of baggage, to be known as the "special delivery system," which will supplement the present mode of handling baggage, and is designed to relieve passengers from all care and anxiety regarding the baggage in transit, as well as to secure speedy dispatch and prompt delivery in special cases where it is desired.

Hon. Sam Shutt was in the city last night.

Gust Boltz, of Sidney is the guest of his brother, Fred O. Boltz.

Postmaster Kaough and Otto Herbst returned yesterday from Indianapolis.

The advance sale of seats for James O'Neill begins at the Temple Monday.

All the new councilmen have taken the oath of office save Kensill and Scheid.

Judge O'Rourke gave John O. Packer judgment against Jerome Bleckman for $309.80.

George Mack and Mary Kamp, Louis Scherer and Mary Zollinger have been licensed to wed.

Walt E. Parks, of Rome City, has accepted a position on the Wabash and Pacific railroad.

These times people begin to realize the advantage of newspapers that take the Associated press dispatches.

Esquire Hunt, the Washington township magistrate, had the beer privileges at the fair grounds yesterday.

The freight house of the Pittsburg at Chicago was opened this morning and an entire new set of hands took the place of the old striking employees.

By a late ruling Attorney General Hord decides that secret societies such as Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, Masons, etc., heretofore exempt from taxes, must hereafter be assessed.

"Capt. James Harper, Lieut. Thomas Sullivan and Col. J. W. Young, of Fort Wayne, came down at 1 o'clock to-day and drove out to Browns Corners to institute a G. A. R. post," says the Huntington Herald.

Rev. H. Kneebler, of Alpena, Mich., will be married next Thursday to a daughter of Rev. Daib, of Friedham, Adams county. Rev. Kneebler was a student of Concordia college and has many friends in this city.

The republican councilmen now claim they will capture and control the finance, street, fire department and water works committees of the council. The SENTINEL prefers to wait and see about this when the mayor reads the names.

Mr. M. N. Webber says in his complaint that not a member of either of the election boards in the Fourth ward voted the democratic councilman ticket last Tuesday. But then Mr. Webber should not notice a little thing like that when republicans dictate affairs.

Mr. Bell, the inventor of the telephone used in Fort Wayne, appears to have transferred his interest in the development of the business to his wife. Bill now owns only one share of the Bell company's stock in his own name, but his wife's stock has yielded her the snug sum of $100,000.00.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Miss Mattie, the accomplished and pretty daughter of Mr. W. T. Pratt, to Mr. E. J. Dougherty, of St. Louis. The ceremony will be solemnized at 10 o'clock a. m. May 19, at the Cathedral. After June 1, Mr. and Mrs. Dougherty will be at home to friends at No. 400 North Illinois street, Indianapolis.

"P. S. O'Rourke, the genial superintendent of the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad company, has put the island and surroundings in first-class order. The boat company, Messrs. Owen, Swinehart & Co., have overhauled their large fleet of boats and placed everything in their line in position for their patrons. These gentlemen deserve the patronage of the public for their kind demeanor and fair dealing," says "Nip and Tuck" in the Rome City column of the Ligonier Banner.

"A twelve year old girl got on Conductor Nixon's train this morning at Briant, on the Grand Rapids and Indiana road. She said that she had been staying with her uncle, near Briant, but having received a letter that her parents, who live at Lewisburg, Ohio, were sick, she wished to go home, but her uncle would only give her fifty cents. This she gave to Mr. Nixon, and she was kindly passed from here to Sonora, near her destination," says the Richmond Palladium.

Judge Gresham notified Solon Humphrey and Thomas E. Tutt, receivers of the Wabash road, that if they will appear before him personally and petition for protection from strikers, at Chicago, he will then consider the advisability of issuing an order detaining deputy marshals to protect those who are willing to return to work. An answer from the receivers, one of whom is in New York and the other in St. Louis, has not yet been received by Judge Gresham. Marshal Marsh holds himself in readiness to obey any order issued by the court; and can supply whatever men are required at short notice.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.
Among spring preparations, do not neglect that which is most important of all—your own body. During the winter the blood absorbs many impurities, which, if not expelled, are liable to break out in scrofula or other disease. The best spring medicine Hood's Sarsaparilla. It expels every impurity from the blood, and gives strength to every function of the body. Sold by all druggists.

H. E. James' new paper, the Message appeared at Rensselaer to-day. Jasper county now has four papers—two republican, one democratic and one with no politics in it.

They are Not Sorry.
There is one thing nobody ever regrets—that is, the day they first adopted Parker's Tonic as their regular family medicine. Its range is so wide, and its good effects so sure, that nothing else, except good nursing, are needed in a great majority of cases. Buy it, try it, and afterwards it will not require any praise from us.

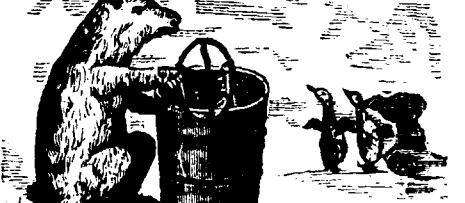

The annual meeting of the Allen county Bible society will be held Sunday evening, May 9th, at the First Presbyterian church. All are invited. 7-24

Mr. K. J. Bauer, the real estate agent, leaves for St. Louis to-night.

My wife was seriously afflicted with rheumatism in her arms. She has now used two bottles of Athlophoros and is well and free from pain. I cheerfully recommend it to my friends and the public. T. R. Lutzow, 121 North Butler street, Madison, Wisconsin.

MADAME MORA'S CORSETS.

MOST COMFORTABLE AND PERFECT FITTING. Merchants say they have never seen a corset so perfect in its construction, so comfortable in its fit, and so perfect in its finish. They are particularly liked by ladies of "FOUR" and "FIVE" figures. The "MORA" corset has the Patent Tulle Back, which covers the open space and protects the spine. The "MORA" corset is made of the finest French Girdle, and is sold by all leading dealers. Manufactured by L. KRAUS & CO., 71 Leonard St., N. Y.

ANTI-KALSONIN.

We are now the agents for the only permanent wall finish Anti-Kalsomine. It covers as well as kalsomine, need never be washed to be renewed; will take a hundred coats if necessary, without cracking, chalking or peeling off. It is sanitary in its composition, kalsomine is not. It is also an excellent primer for outside as well as inside work; it fills the pores of the wood better than whitelead, ochre or any known pigment; makes a more solid surface, is much cheaper than ochre or lead, and is the best covering for walls known. Try it and be convinced.

We have also a large stock of wall paper patterns, ceiling decorations and borders, mixed paints, brushes, artists materials, etc. Give us a call at the paint and paper store of Wilding & Son, 191 Calhoun street. 13-1m cessful farmer.

The suit of C. E. Cutler vs. L. M.
Jones has been dismissed. It was instituted to question Mr. Jones' management of a part of the Lasselle estate.

Peter Killen had Justice Hays assess a nominal fine on him for working on Sunday. John A. Holzworth, his enemy, was about to again proceed against Killen, who shut him off.

There is war in the colored camp and affidavits and wool flies thick and fast.
Mahala Montgomery had Josephine
Drake arrested for provoke and Justice
France fined her. Then Eliza Pettiford had Mahala Montgomery arrested for provoke and she was fined. This is a great picnic for the officers.

The Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific will withdraw from the Indianapolis Weighing association, May 14. The agent at this point says they are not treated fairly, and the institution is a farce. The association has certainly wounded the Wabash a good deal if it be the same affair the Wabash people allege that it is.

The criminal libel suit of A. C. F.
Weichman, of this city, vs. Capt. John B.
Smith, of Kendallville, was heard at the latter place. Capt. Smith made a retraction; said he knew not the origin of the letter that accused Mr. Weichman of a shortage of $12,000 as Wm. Moeller-ing's book-keeper, and Mr. Moellering denies penning any such note. The case was then dismissed and it is probable
Mr. Weichman will institute civil damage suits. His attorneys are T. E. Eli-

TORNADO.

Three Persons Killed and Others Injured.

Woodsboro, Ill., May 7.—A tornado yesterday afternoon killed three persons outright and injured others, and destroyed much property in the vicinity of Ringwood and Merma, ten miles distant.

AT SPRINGFIELD, MO.

Springfield, Mo., May 7.—One of the heaviest rain storms ever known here took place yesterday afternoon, doing a vast amount of damage to property. The total damage in this city is estimated at $75,000 and in the surrounding country at $40,000.

FORT SCOTT.

Fort Scott, Kas., May 7.—Yesterday noon a severe storm set in. Lath's dam broke and the house occupied by Sarah Brown, a widow, was struck by the torrent and swept about a hundred yards down the stream, where it lodged among the trees. Mrs. Brown and four children were in it. Her six months old babe was drowned. The others were rescued.

Washington News.

Washington, May 7.—The house went into a committee of the whole on the private calendar. The house passed the river and harbor bill as reported by the committee, without change.

The senate committee on foreign relations has unanimously ordered a favorable report on Senator Frye's bill to promote the political progress and commercial prosperity of American nations. It provides for a congress of American nations.

Shot for a Burglar.

Athens, Ohio, May 7.—A. W. S. Menear, a druggist and ex-county auditor, was shot and killed Wednesday night by C. Carr, a young man employed by Menear. Menear had returned home late unexpectedly and while trying to get into the house was mistaken by Carr for a burglar and fired upon with a shot gun.

No Quorum Yet.

Columbus, O., May 7.—Republican members of the Ohio senate remained in session until noon and adjourned till tomorrow morning for want of a quorum. There being no democratic members present, warrants for the arrest of absentees were placed in hands of sergeants-at-arms.

A Double Suicide.

St. Paul, Minn., May 7.—The community this morning was startled by a rumor of a double suicide, the victims being Charles P. Warner and a domestic in his family, with whom Mrs. Warner charged her husband with being too intimate.

His Last Race.

Chicago, May 7.—Yesterday afternoon, Daniel Dumbor, of Pullman, one of the team selected to run at the spring races of the club, went out in a shell for training practice on Calumet Lake and during a fierce squall he was lost.

Business Failures.

New York, May 7.—The business failures for the last seven days are: United States, 187; Canada, 25.

A Hot Race.

There were about two hundred people at the Fair grounds yesterday to witness the race between J. W. Farnes's "Judge Hoadly" and Capt. E. F. Holtz's "George B." "Judge Hoadly" was the first two heats. The third was a dead heat and in the sixth "George B." won the race on his staying quality. It was the prettiest local race ever seen on the track. The purse was for $100 and another race will be trotted two weeks from yesterday for $200 a side. The time ranged about 2:30 and 3:40. The judges were Howell Rockhill, Dr. Langtry and A. C. Parlin, while Mr. W. H. Fleming acted as timekeeper. Fully $500 changed hands on the race and Dan Harmon culminated things with his wheel of fortune.

A well pleased audience witnessed "A Box of Cash" at the Academy last night. The play is full of funny situations, as may be supposed, when it is known that it is, in reality, "The Corner Grocery." The company is a very clever one, and in several instances exceeds Mr. Sully's company. Notably, the "Timothy O'Hara" of Ed. M. Faver, which is a much neater and more refined performance than is Sully's "Daddy Nolin." Miss Edith Sinclair is a pleasing soprano and a fair singer. The balance of the company are all good, particularly the policeman of Mrs. Donabach, which is very funny. "A Box of Cash" will be repeated to-night and at the matinee and evening performance to-morrow.

ARTHUR'S ILLNESS.

Disquieting Rumors About the Ex-President's Health.

One day the papers announce that ex-President Arthur is preparing to go fishing soon, either at his favorite West island, near Newport, or to Canada. It is not yet decided which. The next day they say he is slowly dying of Bright's disease and heart trouble, and that, in fact, he really has come nearly to the end. Then next day again his physicians or somebody else deny the whole story of Bright's disease, and say the ex-president is not dying, though they do not deny that he is ill. It is a race between the newspapers and the doctors, which on the one hand can tell the most and on the other can conceal the most.

Mr. Arthur seems to be really in an alarming condition. Not long since his old pastor, who preaches in the church President Arthur used to attend in Washington, was sent for to go from that city to New York and visit the invalid. Now, a man does not usually send for a preacher unless he has good reason to suppose that it is all up with him. Moreover, any one who within a year has met the ex-president in the street in New York city must have been struck with the look of age and declining health that seemed to have suddenly come over him. No wonder. It is enough to kill a man to be president of the United States. The storm of abuse, the misconstruction and out and out lying, in short, to which he is subject, must break a man of iron. It seems as though an American president is not entitled to common decency of treatment. He is one whom no man need envy.

EX-PRESIDENT ARTHUR.

Mr. Arthur is a young man to be dying. There is something painful and saddening in his history. He started in life a dreamer and an enthusiast. His father was a Baptist doctor of divinity and a fine classical scholar. Chester A. was born in Fairfield, Vt., in 1829.

He was a barefoot boy who did farm chores for his living. In his childhood, but he never made any fuss about it. He was a graduate of Union college, N. Y., and paid for his education himself by teaching in other ways. In college he was the most popular of students. Tall, commanding and handsome, his manners were at once dignified and winning. He was courteous itself to all. He had dark, brilliant eyes and dark, curling hair. He was a first-class scholar, too.

Great things were predicted for him. He studied law, again paying for his education himself. When only 21 he was principal of a boys' academy at North Pomfret, Vt. He was strictly economical, obliged to be so. When he had saved $500 he began the practice of law, first in the west then in New York city.

Mr. Arthur's first days were his best days. He came from college full of enthusiasm and determined to do right at all cost. He was intensely anti-slavery in his convictions. He had hardly settled in New York and was only 23 years old when a law case was put into his hands that tried both his principles and his intellect. It was the celebrated Lemmon slave case, to decide whether, under the laws of New York, slaves brought into the state did not become free. Arthur took up the side of the slaves and won their cause triumphantly. The trials were carried up from court to court, and Charles O'Connor was the opposing counsel to him, but the brave young man won. From that day on it was settled that slaves brought into New York by their owners became free. Then Arthur took up the grievance of a negro woman who had been put off a street car on account of color. He sued the company and collected damages, and again from that day on, colored people had the right to ride unquestioned in the public conveyances of New York.

HOUSE ON LEXINGTON AVENUE.

As a member of the staff of Governor Morgan of New York, during the war, it fell to him to equip regiments of soldiers and forward them to the front. He did this admirably, and in this work he got the title of general. The title in civil, not a military one. He was Governor Morgan's adjutant. Afterwards he was collector of the port of New York and vice-president. It is said to have been directly opposed to his friend, Roscoe Conkling, with that he accepted the second place on the Garfield ticket. Conkling hated Garfield so intensely that he thought him not good enough to stand on the same ticket with Arthur. The split in the Republican party of New York wrecked Arthur's fortune politically. The bitter and final quarrel that resulted in consequence between himself and his warmest friends, distressed him and rendered his life not pleasant socially. He is said to have a fixed belief that the American people have misunderstood him and not given him his dues, and that those on whom he lavished favor and friendship have turned against him and tried to do him injury. His life has not been a very jolly one since he left the White House.

Mr. Arthur's wife died in 1879. He was devotedly attached to her, and never remarried. He lives alone with his children, a son and daughter, in his house on Lexington avenue. His son Allan, looks like a duke, and is not greatly remarkable, except for having broken a marriage engagement with a charming girl, while his father was president.

So, from having started in life with the highest prospects and aspirations, with all that nature could do for him in the way of physique, and with a fine brain, from beginning with a brave record on the side of liberty and justice, the ex-president is finishing his career in declining health and obscurity, at his home. Until his illness called attention to him again, his name had scarcely been mentioned since he left Washington.

His little daughter Nellie was the sweet, bright flower that cheered his cheerless life in the White House. She is now nearing womanhood, and resembles her father in face and features.

In his youth Mr. Arthur was called "an ideally faithful friend," and it was this which caused his overthrow. When vice-president of the United States he went to Albany and worked like a very lobbyist for the reelection of Conkling and Platt to the United States senatorship. He recognizes now that this was the mistake of his lifetime. He has, perhaps, had plenty of time to brood over it since. He is said to be the only one of the Republican presidents who never made a reference to the south in any of his messages.

THE LIQUOR LEAGUE.

An Attendance of About Fifty Delegates From Various Cities.

Representatives of the liquor interests of the state were in session at Mozart hall, Indianapolis, yesterday, considering matters of interest in relation to their business, with especial reference to the coming campaign. Some days ago circulars were sent out by P. H. McNelis, an inviting attendance, and in response representatives from Terre Haute, Evansville, Lafayette, Fort Wayne, Logansport, Brazil, Jeffersonville, New Albany, South Bend and other cities arrived, about fifty being present. It was not the intention to hold a mass convention, but merely a conference to form a permanent state organization, which may be considered a revival of the old liquor league of 1882. The meeting is strictly private. "We do not propose to form a political organization," said Mr. McNelis, of Indianapolis, "in fact we want as little to do with politics as possible, and if neither party makes a direct issue of high license this year our organization will cut no figure in the campaign. We are to organize for the purpose of mutual protection, and we want to make the organization permanent, as it is in Massachusetts, New York and other states. If either of the political parties here advocate high license, our organization will be against them."

Hon. J. K. Edgerton on Judge Lowry.

(Ligonier Banner.)

Hon. Joseph K. Edgerton, of Fort Wayne, is recognized throughout this district as one of the brainiest and purest democrats of Indiana. He represented the old Tenth district in congress and is held in the highest esteem by his fellow democrats. In a recent letter to J. B. Stoll, Mr. Edgerton thus spoke of our representative in congress: "There is no good reason why Judge Lowry should not be re-nominated in this district. He is an able man and a faithful representative. I have no sympathy with the efforts to defeat his re-nomination, and if I thought I had any influence with the democrats of this district I would cheerfully and cordially give it to Judge Lowry."

Right Rev. Bishop Dwenger yesterday awarded the contracts for the work on the new $30,000 Catholic orphan asylum to be built in this city. Michael Orr has the work of excavation, Ernest Brimeyer has the masonry and Genko Brothers the cut stone, Kendrick & Shrimpton will superintend the structure, which can be seen directly north through Calhoun street. The corner stone will be blessed and laid by Right Rev. Bishop Dwenger on Sunday afternoon June 27. The ceremony will no doubt be an occasion of joy to the Catholics of this city, and all societies and Benevolent organizations of the church will probably turn out to attend the solemn rite. The new institution will not only be a pride to our city, but will be a charity that commands itself to everybody.

The Strike in Fort Wayne.

The Pittsburg, Nickel Plate, Lake Shore and Wabash railroad people say they are moving freight at Chicago and consequently are in shape to solicit traffic here. Another detachment of men left here last night to work in the Pittsburg depot at Chicago. The lumber blockade at Chicago has directed a big shipment of lumber south over the Grand Rapids road. The rumors of strikes here proved idle talk as THE SENTINEL predicted.

DEFEAT!

Stares the Chicago Strikers Squarely.

Many Workmen are Resuming Their Places at the Old Hours and Pay.

Thirty-two Thousand Dollars for the Policemen—The Fort Wayne Roads at Chicago.

CHICAGO.

Chicago, May 7.—Thirty-two thousand dollars has been subscribed for the relief of policemen's families. The police have found more dynamite and hope to find manufacturers. State's Attorney Grinnell has stated he has obtained ample legal evidence implicating Spies, Fielden and Schwab as leaders in getting up a riot Tuesday night.

ANOTHER STRIKE.

The switch tenders on the Western road, which leases tracks to the Fort Wayne, Wabash, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, Chicago and Atlantic and the Grand Trunk, struck yesterday, and seriously retarded the business of the roads named.

The first move made by the tenders was on the Fort Wayne neutral track, near Thirty-ninth street, where they stopped an engine belonging to the Fort Wayne road and a Wabash passenger train. The passengers on the latter were compelled to take the street cars into the city. Nearly all day the union track was blocked from Thirty-ninth street to the "Y," but the principal difficulty was at Fortieth street and Stewart avenue, where the Western Indiana line crosses that of the Stock Yards Transit company. At this point the gates were swung across the tracks—the gate-tenders being on a strike also—so that trains could not pass.

At the Pittsburg and Fort Wayne depot not a freight handler was at work yesterday. All the afternoon about a dozen clerks from the general office labored hard with the trucks, taking care of the perishable freight. The Fort Wayne road this morning issued an ultimatum similar to that of the Burlington, and all employees who fail to put in an appearance will be finally discharged. Both "in" and "out" freight houses are crowded with goods, and the side tracks are full of loaded cars. It is safe to say that at least 600 cars on the Fort Wayne road are lying on the side tracks here and at suburban stations waiting until a force of men can be procured to unload them. A big delegation of men from Fort Wayne and elsewhere are at work to-day moving a few cars.

THE WABASH ROAD.

The special police who have guarded the Wabash for several days stood around the freight houses yesterday afternoon and shrugged their shoulders when the cold wind blew up. They had no exercise in the way of manning strikers, and felt the sudden change in the atmosphere. A good deal of freight was being handled, but when the Western Indiana strike occurred business was badly interrupted.

Wells H. Blodgett, general solicitor of the Wabash railroad, presented another petition to Judge Blodgett yesterday for the appointment of deputy marshals to protect the Wabash road's property. The petition is identical like that presented Monday, but, in accordance with Judge Gresham's idea, it is signed by the receivers of the road instead of their solicitors. The affidavit of K. H. Wade, superintendent of transportation, accompanies it, in which it is said that many employees have expressed their wish to return to the company's employ if they were permitted to do so, and that the strikers will resume their interference and it will be impossible to preserve the company's property if protection is not afforded by the court.

Special officer Ballard, of the Wabash railroad, sent down fifty special officers and soon trained them to throw switchmen, thus starting trains.

At Fifty-fifth street the machine shops of the Fort Wayne road are idle on account of a strike of the men. The machinists want nine hours' pay for eight hours' work, and the employees who get $1.25 per day want $1.50. The trackmen are also out.

A BLOCKADE RAISED.

The blockade at the Fortieth street crossing of the Western Indiana road was raised at 10:30.

RETURNING TO WORK.

The western railways are resuming operations on nearly the same basis prior to the strike. On all roads freight trains are being sent out without molestation, and in the freight houses an increased force of men are at work.

Work was resumed at Armour's glue factory this morning. Two hundred employees returned to work on the old basis of ten hours for ten hours pay.

Nearly a full complement of 1,400 men are at work at McCormick's reaper works.

Wm. Stahlknecht, president of the cabinetmakers union, was arrested shortly after midnight, accused of intimidating workmen, and is alleged to have participated in the riot Tuesday night.

The People's gas company has instituted the eight hour system. The force changes every eight instead of every twelve hours, and pay $2.50 per day instead of $2.75.

SOCIALIST FIELDEN.

Fielden, the socialist now under arrest, was treated by Dr. Dexter this morning. The doctor states that from the course of the bullet Fielden evidently shot himself while carrying his revolver.

THE SOCIALIST LEADERS.

August and Christian Spies are together in cell No. 106, and Fielden and Schwab occupy cell No. 107. In the registry book of jail they recorded themselves as follows:

Hugst Spies, 30 years; occupation, journalist; birthplace, Germany.

Christian Spies, 26 years; occupation, hard wood finisher; birthplace, Germany.

Samuel Fielden, 39 years; occupation, teamster; birthplace, England.

Michael Schwab, 33 years occupation, journalist; birthplace, Germany.

A DYNAMITER ARRESTED.

Wm. Soliger, a suspected dynamiter, was arrested this morning. The fear exhibited by the man was painful.

CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, April 7.—The settlements with the strikers more than overbalance the new strikes. The hostlers of the street railway stables have struck for $12 a week.

The carpenters have issued a circular calling on all to work eight hours for eight hours pay so as to give employment to idle men.

It is thought that most of the carriage factories will be running by Monday. The mayor still keeps up precautionary measures.

GRAND RAPIDS.

Grand Rapids, May 7.—The cabinet maker's difficulty at the chair factory was settled by arbitration. The men returned to work to-day and will receive as high wages as are paid in any factory. The brick makers and street contractors have advanced the wages of common laborers to $1.25, and the men are all at work. The teamsters refuse to work unless the brick makers will agree to hire non-union teamsters, and no brick have been handled this week. Work on several large jobs is suspended for want of brick.

EVANSVILLE.

Evansville, May 7.—Between sixty and seventy-five men struck at Reiman & Schulte's saw mill yesterday, and, forming in double column, marched to all the saw mills in the city, with two exceptions, and were joined by the employees of each, causing a general strike. The strike is for ten hours work with eleven hours pay. There are eleven saw mills here, of which nine are affected by the strike.

WAIT AWHILE.

Judge Treat Declines to Confirm the Wabash Side.

H. K. Kent, solicitor of the Wabash, asked the confirmation of the master's report of the sale of the road a day or two ago, whereupon Judge Treat asked some very pertinent questions, which were not answered to the satisfaction of the court, and the confirmation is indefinitely postponed. The judge wanted the purchasers to pay into court the $625,000 they had bid, to pay all the receivers certificates and current debts of the receivership, about $4,000,000 in all, and gave the solicitor to understand that the court would do nothing with closed eyes, all of which goes to show honesty and justice on the bench as yet. The Cleveland Plaindealer says: "Since such a settlement of the matter was scarcely contemplated by the purchasers at the time of the sale, and since it was not anticipated that much more than the 10 per cent. of the spot cash was necessary to complete the bargain, it looks as though the deposit of $625,000 has gotten into a mighty tight place, and that considerable squeezing will be necessary before anything can be realized on it."

WAR!

Greece Involved in a Bloody Strife.

Troops Rushed to the Front and War with Turkey is but a Question of Hours.

The Foreign Ambassadors Quit Athens and That Port is Ordered Closed.

CAN'T STOP IT.

Greece Bound to Plunge Into War.

ATHENS, May 7.—The government has sent a gun boat to Constantinople to take away from the Turkish ministry M. Couduriott, the Greek minister. Greek troops are being hurried to the front with all possible speed.

Great excitement prevails at Athens. The soldiers of the garrison have been summoned to the barracks and they will proceed to the front. Several members of the chamber of deputies who are officers in the army have been ordered to the front. The general commanding the Greek troops on the frontier telegraphs that the Turks are massing, and that he has ordered a similar movement of his troops.

IT IS WAR.

ATHENS, May 7.—[Latest]—All foreign ministers have embarked on the vessels of their respective nations to depart from Greece. The powers have given orders to fleets to blockade the Greek ports.

Soldiers at the garrison here received with cheers the orders to march to the frontier. The Peloponnesian army has been ordered to Thessaly. The movements of the Turkish army threaten to make Thessaly the scene of the first warlike appearance. Indications now point to the Turkish advance by way of Larissa.

The Greek reserves at Valo and Valanathina have been pushed to the front. This evening two battalions of the Athens garrison started for the frontier. The populace are enthusiastic over the prospect of war with Turkey. Greek fleet has left Salamis and it is believed has gone to Poros.

It is not believed that Russia will take any share with the other powers in the coercion against Greece.

An Invitation to Leave Town.

LOANSVILLE, Ind., May 7.—Lewis York, mixture of insanity, socialism, communism, nihilism and infidelity, has made himself so odious that a committee of citizens last night gave him five hours to leave the town or be hanged. He left on the first train.

Fire Record.

ROSSVILLE, Ill., May 7.—Four business houses and one dwelling burned last night. Loss, $30,000. Insurance, $20,000.

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 7.—At 12:30 this morning the tanks of Thayer No. 1 were set on fire by incendiary and are now burning. The fire spread to the derrick of Gordon No. 1, a few rods distant, which was burned to the ground. The workmen saw a man running from the tanks.

THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, May 7.—Wheat, opened 1c stronger and later weakened. No. 2 red, May, 90 3/4 @ 92 1/4. Corn, shade higher, less active, 38 @ 48. Oats, quiet steady at 37 @ 45.

CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO, May 7.—Wheat closed shade lower, 76 1/2. Corn, easy, 34 1/2. Oats, weak, 29 1/2.

THE WEATHER.

How the Future is Peeped Into by Uncle Sam.

Without any previous notice, the signal service bureau has changed its compilation and publication of weather predictions on a new plan, which, it is believed, will meet with general favor. Instead of announcing what the weather is likely to be in the various geographical divisions of the country, as the New England states, the south Atlantic states, the lower lake region, etc., the predictions will hereafter be made for each state, grouping together, from day to day, such states as are likely to have the same weather. Whenever necessary, predictions will be made in different portions of the same state. The first bulletin sent out, for example, showed a probable difference in the weather of northern Indiana and southern Indiana. The signal service officers say that the average man will more readily understand and appreciate a prediction applied to his state than one concerning a group of states, and the new plan will, they think, prove popular. These weather predictions appear in THE SENTINEL daily and are telegraphed direct from Washington.

SOME NEW YORK NOTES

THE QUESTION OF ESCORTS AND THE SUMMER WIDOWERS.

Women Who Go Out Unattended—The Growth of Independence Among the Fair—The Men Whose Wives Have Gone to Summer in Europe.

(Special Correspondence.)

NEW YORK, May 8.—The Washington correspondents have had considerable to say recently about ladies going to parties and playing unattended by male escorts. The practice is so well established here that nothing is thought of it. Indeed, if all the reformed women in this city waited to be escorted to every place they wanted to go after night many of them would never go anywhere. The male half of humanity never does anything it doesn't want to do, and it hardly ever wants to go where its sisters, mothers and wives want to go. Necessity inaugurated the custom of ladies going in twos, threes or fours, and now they prefer groups of themselves to any escort that ever lived, unless they are very much in love with the escort. They enjoy going out in this independent way, each one feeling that nothing is expected of her in the way of entertaining the others, if she doesn't feel like it. "While an escort," said one fair woman in discussing this question with me, "an escort expects to be entertained. Talk of a man desiring an escort and pleasure for women. Most men expect the lady they escort to treat and flatter them all the time. It is a little tiresome for the young lady." The truth is, that women are the higher walks of life are not only asserting their independence in society, but are enjoying it. When it comes to going to receptions and private parties, they "don't want the care of a man." Then, women are learning that they can have pleasant social companions without men altogether. Ladies' luncheons are the most popular attractions of society can derive. Really nice women have learned that other charming women can be as entertaining in conversation as any man, however gallant. Who knows, perhaps this self-sufficiency and independence, cultivated to a still greater extent, will be the very means of making men put forth greater efforts to make themselves more attractive to women. They have so long considered themselves a necessity that they did not value the privilege of escorting ladies. As soon as they are made to feel that their protection is not necessary, their society not greatly sought after, they will make an effort to keep from being cast aside altogether.

A woman of society—not a young woman either, said to me not long since that for the past few years men and women had seemed absolutely careless as to what each thought of the other. Both seemed to be completely disillusioned. Something, she thought, was surely necessary to make each seem valuable and attractive in the eyes of the other. Perhaps the something useful is the independence of women now being made manifest.

At this time New York abounds in husbands whose wives have gone to Europe. Don't picture them as disconsolate, sad-faced creatures, looking out on the merciless sea through a film of tears, because they are not spending their time that way. A Gothamite, whose wife is on the outside of the ocean, is a creature of infinite freedom, and often but little conscience. Sometimes in February he begins to show great consideration for the health of his beloved spouse. He remarks upon her pallor, and declares that she is losing flesh—urges her to see a doctor. Finally, he declares that he cannot calmly sit still and see her going down hill, that although he can't endure the thought of her absence, she must take care of her health—she must go abroad. "Can you go alone, dear?" she asks, pathetically. His kind interest in her welfare has touched her heart anew, and she idolizes him over again, as in the days when he was her lover. No, he never regretted anything so much in his life; but unfortunately he never was so driven in business. He couldn't possibly go. But if you say that he can go over at the end of the summer and bring her home.

In this hope she departs, tenderly urging him to enjoy himself all he can in her absence—to visit such and such of her friends as she knows will try to mitigate his solitude. He shakes his head and intimates that the tyrant, business, will claim him for his own, and so it does, but not the business she imagines. Good, trusted soul. No indeed, but instead thereof the business of trying his wings, so to speak—putting in every moment of his liberty according to his most liberal notions of pleasure.

He doesn't do much pining. Not he. The moment the steamer glides down the bay he sails forth to hunt forbidden fruit. He will take it in any shape in which it can be found, liquid or otherwise. Such hark! Theaters, suppers, excursions, everything in the way of entertainment is plunged into at the maddest rate, because, forsooth, he is "so homesick." He calls on his wife's friends and invites them to little luncheons and dinners; and parties of his chums, the maddest, merriest of his chums, are frequent and loud. And then what letters he writes his wife! They are indeed remarkable documents, in which so hectic inquiries for her health and affectionate suggestions in regard to prolonging her stay, without regard to him or his longings, follow one another in the most unselfish way. He goes about with very real eyes part of his time, but this distressing reality is not to be attributed to tears. He is so anxious to crowd the time that he rather overdoes it, and before the poor lady has been gone a month he is laid on the shelf from too much business of a recreative order.

I was seeing a friend off to Europe one morning recently. On the same steamer the wife of an acquaintance had taken passage. As it moved down the bay I stood near the disconsolate summer widower, who was manifesting his grief by energetically waving his hat. As he turned to go he met an acquaintance in the crowd, and explained that he was there seeing his wife off.

"Indeed!" said the other, with apparent delight. "You'll give a supper soon, I suppose?"

"Oh, of course," answered the newly recovered husband. And so he turned away, planning for pleasure, while the wife watched him from the steamer's deck as she sailed away, heavy-hearted and tear-burdened, doubtless. These things are good texts for philosophers, reformers, and all persons who see a significance in everything, and read lessons and prophecies therefrom; but they are too vast for me. I can only see the facts as they are, but must wait for time to divulge the "whether or no drifting" of it.

The risk for Europe has already begun. From now till the 1st of July Americans cross the ocean in droves. Europe seems as near to New York as that going there is a mere picnic excursion.

Seeing friends off becomes a part of the programme of entertainment for the spring and early summer. It involves flowers and other gifts, and plenty of regrets, good wishes, and promises to write. The departing voyagers generally go off feeling that they are people of importance. The attention shown them increases their self-confidence and makes their outdoor sea travel happy.

EDMON OLIVER.

THADDEUS FAIRBANKS.

He Invented the Platform Scales and Re-fringed St. Johnsbury.

The inventor of the Fairbanks platform scales lived to be 90 years old, and died of an accident. Sunday, Jan. 23, was his 90th birthday. His neighbors called to see him, and congratulated him on his good health and spirits. March 31 he made a mistake in the hall of his home, and fell. The fall broke his left hip. He was so aged that there was little hope that the fracture could knit properly and heal again. He suffered great pain from the injury, which grew worse and worse until he died. Only for the accident, he might have lived several more years.

Thaddeus Fairbanks was born at Brimfield, Mass., 1798. He was a benevolent Puritan New Englander. In 1838 Jonathan Fairbanks came to this country from Yorkshire, England. The family must have been very long lived. Thaddeus was only the sixth in descent from this first Jonathan. It is nearly as old an American family as there is left in the country. Neither do the number of full-blooded Fairbankses that survive the venerable gentleman bear out the oft-repeated assumption that the old New England families are running out. There are in St. Johnsbury this day nearly enough of the kin to keep two churches going. The patriarch himself attended the South Congregational church, of which his nephew, Edward Fairbanks, is pastor. His son is superintendent of the Sunday school, and another nephew is deacon. There seems to be not room for all the Fairbankses in this church, and a number of them belong to the North Congregational church of St. Johnsbury, of which still a third nephew is deacon, and a fourth Sunday school superintendent.

Thaddeus Fairbanks was a born inventor. When a boy he helped his father, build a saw mill and a grist mill. He never had any education, except what was got in the common schools of his native village, but his mechanical genius triumphed without book learning. In the early part of the century he and his brother started a small iron foundry with the firm name of E. & T. Fairbanks, in St. Johnsbury, to which their father had removed. Erasmus was twice governor of Vermont.

The brothers at first made stoves and plows. Thaddeus designed and made the patterns for both. In 1836 he patented a plow and in 1838 a cooking stove. That was about the days of the first cooking stoves in America. But his great work was the invention of the platform scales. In 1830 it was the fashion among New England farmers to cultivate hemp. There was great difficulty in separating the fiber from the bark or straw. To obviate that Thaddeus invented and patented a hemp dresser. The firm bought the straw and paid $15 a ton for it. But it was exceedingly difficult to decide how much a ton was. There was no way to weigh anything except by the balance and the old-fashioned steelyards.

Once more Mr. Fairbanks began to turn his mind to inventing. He studied, thought and experimented. The result was the platform scale, not perfect at first but practicable, so that a loaded wagon could be weighed upon it. In a little while the scales were in demand the country over, and the fortune of the Fairbanks brothers was made. They gave up the manufacture of everything else and confined themselves thenceforward to scales. They made many patterns and sizes of these. Thaddeus has received decorations from three foreign governments for his scales.

St. Johnsbury, Vt., is proud of two possessions, the Fairbanks scale works and the St. Johnsbury academy. It owes both to Thaddeus Fairbanks. St. Johnsbury is said to be a workingman's paradise. The academy is a noble institution of learning. He gave to it $200,000. For many years it was his custom to sign and present the diplomas of the graduating class.

In Old Field Weed.

The old field mullein has been a seemingly outcast for many years, but now it has suddenly attracted the attention of the medical world who now recognize it to be the best lung medicine yet discovered, when made into a tea and combined with sweet gum, presents in Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein a pleasant and effective cure for croup, whooping cough, colds and consumption. Sold by all druggists.

The natural gas discovered at Portland last Wednesday increases in volume, and is sufficient to light a city of 20,000 inhabitants. The drillers predict that oil will be found this week. New companies are being organized, and it is predicted that the village of 400 in 1881 will reach 20,000 in 1890. This is the only natural gas yet discovered in Indiana.

THE ONE LOVED BEST.

She sits by his side with an anxious look
Searing her white, gelid face
Alas! with jewels which here and there
Gleam out from the folds of her shabby lace.
Her long, unlovely, perfect face
Down to her knees down to her delicate shoe.
But why is my lady distraught tonight?
While the life is played and the drums tattooed
Her smile is only a borrowed mask.
To hide her face from the gazing crowd,
And the while her face will never be
When she is in her room.
And why is this, when this kindly man
At her side is hers by legal right?
As the world can see, who more than she Should wear the smile of content to-night?

Oh, the life that she lives in the world goes on
Oh, the love that she lives in her very day
And on, for the hopes which the years now gone
Have added out of our sight away!
But the saddest thing for a wife to hear,
When when she is in her room,
Is the sound of a name from the lips of her best-
The sound of a name—and the name not her own.

She hears it now through the music's sweet;
It will haunt her down to her dying day:
The name of the gaudy, sweet-faced girl
She met at the market on the day.
Ah, it is not the wife's perfect name
In his happy dream, with his mind at rest;
My lady knows her grief and shame
That the old love got to the heart of her best.
HELEN A. MAXWELL.

La Crosse, Wis., May 4.

I declare to you that no matter what your trouble you can drop it by the simple process of relaxation. Anxiety is a buzz wheel you hold close in your arms, and the more it sends you the tighter you hold it until your organism is wrecked. But drop it, I say; relax; let it go; it does not hold you; you hold it. It falls to the ground by the natural laws of gravitation the moment you cease to hold it; and in that self-same moment hope comes to the heavenly place and makes her abode with you.—Helen Williams.
